DEATH
CLAIMS
EDELSON

Henry Ford, at the head of the great motor plant which bears his name, but unlike many young sons of noted sires, he was not president "in name only." From youth he had been tremendously interested in motor manufacture, and as the result of his intensive study was able to make many important changes in the policies established by his father, and he it was who induced the elder Ford to abandon the old model T car for one with the conventional gear shift.

His fame, however, does not rest with his phenomenal success as an industrialist, or the astuteness which marked his business relations. The world is long going to remember him for his splendid moral character and for benevolences which have benefited mankind. His annual contributions to charity ranged from $50,000 up to more than $150,000. In 1925 Edsel and Eleanor Ford contributed $750,000 to match a like gift by his parents to a local Y.M.C.A. building program. Two years later they subscribed $400,000 to a fund for the construction of a woman's building in Detroit.

Nowhere in the country will Edsel Ford's death come as a deeper blow than at Seal Harbor, Mt. Desert, where in 1922 he bought 40 acres of choice land in the Ox Hill section, and developed it into a $3,000,000 summer retreat, which he often pronounced as "the best of all the beauty spots in the world." Edsel Ford died while still on the sunny side of life, but he had done untold things to bring sunshine into the lives of young and old.

TRIBUTE TO HEROES OF FOUR WARS

Changing times and added sorrow have their imprint in the Memorial Day services this year. Once recognized as the day when we paid tribute to those soldiers who died during and after the Civil War it now embraces the dead who had fought in four wars, including the global struggle which is now waging. When the parade passes through Main street Sunday afternoon no Civil War veteran will be there to receive the cloakroom's homage, for the last surviving member of Edwin Libby Post died last year. And this year the procession will be made up of pedestrians, for while the occasion would warrant it there will be no motor cars in the line, the committee having decided that conservation of gas was the best expression of patriotism. Mingled with the solemnity of the occasion will be the silent but universal prayer, that today's war may soon be brought to a successful conclusion.

THE GREAT
DIVERSION

Baseball fans—and today that expression applies to the great majority of the American people—are learning that the war has not robbed the major league struggles of the interest which has been created in former years. As a matter of fact the contest in each league has become exceedingly tense particularly in the American League where comparatively few games separate the leaders from the tail-enders. New England interest is running high because of the brave fight being waged by the Boston team of the National League. Far from being an unpatriotic sport the national game of baseball today enjoys the full approval of the boys at the front, who between battles are yearning eagerly for the latest news from their favorite teams. Even a world war, drafting the flower of the nation's youth, cannot kill the baseball spirit.

WILL ITALY
SEEK PEACE?

The deadly blows which the United Nations are heaping upon Italy should force an early decision for peace upon the part of the nation which 25 years ago was standing shoulder to shoulder with us in the war against the Hun. We have always believed that a godly portion of the Italian people have looked askance at an alliance with the Axis powers but have felt compelled to follow the beckoning of the cowardly Mussolini. That Italy may seek separate peace is the rumor which travels apace. May that day come—and soon.

WITH
UNCLE SAM'S HELP

When this nation adopted the lend-lease measure to aid its allies in other countries it was no idle gesture. Through April, according to President Roosevelt's announcement Tuesday, lend-lease aid had totalled $11,102,000,000, and with that help the Allied Nations were amassing an offensive striking power that will "end only in Berlin and Tokyo." With that as the climax nobody in America will regret the expenditure of this tremendous fund; and for that matter nobody regrets it as the attempt.

The Black Cat

(By The Roving Reporter)

The Bath Times devotes a generous headline to a front street man who enjoyed a banana royal in a local drug store. But in these days when "we have no bananas" it is interesting to note that the Bath man's treat came from Montreal and was raised in Mexico.

This newspaper counts as one of its most loyal friends Mrs. Etta Staples of 6 Linden street. Mrs. Staples who is 89, and is suffering from failing eyesight, writes: "I have read The Courier-Gazette since I was 25 years old and I want it as long as I can see." My hat is off to her.

The Grand Army lawn has sadly needed a haircut for several weeks, but it has been impossible to get a barber. Yesterday Mayor Veazie took the matter in hand, and called out the "Militia." The job was done pronto, and quite a crop of hay resulted.

Once again my gratitude goes out to Walter W. Morse of Portland; this time for the pleasing souvenir he sent me this week.

Even if you can't get out of your seat in the crowded bus, you can at least offer a lady a lap—if you have a lap—Ed. Pointer in the Boston Globe.

Would Col. Sibley apply the same advice to the feminine passenger, in reverse?

A cross-breed hen—part Rhode Island Red, and part Plymouth Rock, owned by Laven S. Godfrey of Waterman's Beach, would be amply justified in claiming the championship of both families. She has just presented Mr. Godfrey with a double egg, a perfect inside of a perfect hard outer shell. The neighborhood was scoured for a piece of twine long enough to measure it. The dimensions were 9½x7½. Weight half a pound.

Morris B. Perry, chairman of the Knox County Rationing Board, had official business in Augusta Wednesday, and, folks, he can tell you an interesting story of how he got there and back. He had expected to have no serious trouble in getting the small amount of gas required, but when he found scores of filling stations closed and those dealers who were open either would sell him only a dribble or gave him a frosty look, he almost had to coast home.

One year ago, Dr. Guy Wilson, Methodist pastor, was transferred to Biddeford—Rev. Roy A. Welker was called to the pastorate of the Congregational Church.—The drowned body of Edgar Wallace of Cushing was found in a swamp.—The North Lubec Manufacturing & Canning Company started packing sardines at its plant on Tillson wharf.

THE PUBLIC SHOULD LEARN

In Blackouts House Lights Should Remain Out
Until All-Clear Is Sounded

"General confusion" among thousands of householders who turned on their lights when the second blue signal was sounded instead of waiting for the all clear marred Maine's statewide blackout test Monday night in nearly all sections. Col. Francis H. Farnum, State Civilian Defense director, said today.

"In many, many instances," Farnum said, "householders switched on their lights simultaneously with the coming on of street lights after the second blue, but that should not have been done. Lights in dwellings must not be turned on until the all clear signal has been sounded.

"Street lights are allowed to be switched on after the second blue to reduce the possibility of traffic accidents. We desire to have these movements in a blackout clearly understood by the public that similar confusion may be eliminated in the future."

Farnum said that otherwise, however, the blackout test, the first since the army revised its warning signal several weeks ago, was "reasonably successful although there were some rough spots which will have to be smoothed out."

He said it was important that the public become "better acquainted with what should and should not be done during a blackout or daylight rehearsal, so that they may be run off more smoothly."

IN FLANDERS FIELDS
In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.
We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe;
To you from falling hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high;
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

Book Review

(By K. S. F.)

"Practical Fly Fishing." Author Charles M. Wetzel, with illustrations by the author. The Christopher Publishing House, Boston.

This book contains methods of modern fly fishing that will be of vast help for real aquatic understanding. His own illustrations will also prove instructive to fishermen from Maine to Florida and the great West. This treatise will give you regular "fly fans," and information that will make for new converts in the art.

The book is divided into parts for more simple understanding and is practically a trout case of study and fishermen's guide, but the book deals with bass and how to catch them on wet flies, dry flies, nymphs, and bucktails.

A book every serious son of Isaac Walton, should own and study. Charming bound with excellent stock and workmanship.

NEARING SEASON'S CLIMAX

Rockland High Takes Two From Vinalhaven — Thomaston Makes It Six Straight

Rockland Took Both

Rockland High fared well in the twin bill with Vinalhaven at Community Park Tuesday afternoon. The opener was a pitcher's duel between E. Allen of the home nine and Conway from the Islanders, which Rockland copped 6 to 4. The Tigers then proceeded to win the nightcap 11 to 4 on eight scattered bingles. In the initial tussle Rockland bunched safeties for the third and fourth innings in which they drove in six markers.

Dow and E. Allen chucked consecutive three-hitters at the Vinalhaven club and E. Allen pounded out two doubles and a single for his cause. In the second game McCurdy went two for three, collecting a double and single for batting honors.

Dyer and Conway, on the mound for Vinalhaven, did a great job, but their team's hitting was too much spread.

Much interest centered around the appearance of Edith Dondis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dondis, now attached to the WAVES, when she was seen in the midweek issue of Fox Movietone News at Park Theater. This particular newsreel showed the Reed Mansion, formerly tops in New York's social life, which now has been converted into a Women's Military Service Club. The elaborate home now welcomes all women serving in all branches of the armed forces offering recreation and home comforts to all, with lounges, powder rooms, dormitory, and canteen. The appearance of Miss Dondis relaxing in the beautiful lounge brought much comment from the Park patrons upon seeing on the screen one of Rockland's most popular daughters now serving her country.

IMPORTANT TO FISHERMEN

Was the Meeting Held Here Tuesday With Coordinator William C. Herrington

A meeting expected to be of great importance to Maine Fisheries was held Tuesday afternoon at the Rockland Post Office, when the Area Coordinator of Fisheries, William C. Herrington of Boston, was present to confer with representatives of the coast. Herrington, formerly with the Fish and Wildlife Service, is representative of Harold L. Ickes in the north Atlantic area. With him were Leslie W. Scattergood, regional coordinator for western Maine and New Hampshire, and Clyde Taylor, holding the same position for eastern Maine.

The meeting culminated many activities of the Maine Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries, of which Commissioner Arthur R. Greenleaf has been working on war-time problems in behalf of the coastal folks. For many weeks individual pleas for aid have come to Commissioner Greenleaf, and these were referred to Coordinator Herrington at the meeting. Chief complaint seemed to rest on the questions of gasoline and food—with some of these present at the meeting reciting grievances against local rationing boards. Herrington was appointed to see that the fisheries receive whatever is needed in the way of supplies to keep them in production, and he is expected to act on the gasoline and food problems at once.

Complex methods of providing ration tickets, and inability of the men involved to take time to straighten out their troubles, were mentioned. Equipment was another problem, although most of those present felt the situation had been improved lately.

Priorities are going through fast—er, it was reported, and it is expected that in a few more days they will move along even more quickly. The situation of a few months back, when priorities could be got but the parts weren't available, seems now to have shifted to food. Even men with points adequate for buying what they need are unable to get many ordinary items of ship provisioning.

The meeting also talked about pot warp, and the general rope and cable picture—with promises that the fisheries were to get what they need of these items. Ship chandlers were represented, and brought the latest information about this sort of item. Fish boxes and barrels, now hard to get, were discussed.

The meeting, presided over by Commissioner Greenleaf, was of a committee recently named to represent the entire coast of Maine and its divergent fisheries interests. Lobstermen, other fishermen, boatmen, packers, dealers, and the State are all on the group. Those present, in addition to the members already named, were: Ralph A. McLean and W. R. Doane, representing ship supply houses; Edwin G. Towne, New Hampshire conservationist; Rodney E. Peyler, former fisheries commissioner, George O. Beal of Jonesport; and Ralph K. Barter of Stonington. The group plans to meet in the future whenever the fisheries appear to need assistance from Coordinator Scattergood. Through Commissioner Greenleaf, all Maine people interested in fisheries are expected to present their problems to this committee.—By John Gould.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is Better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly when they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or easy passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WITH THE EXTENSION AGENTS AND THE KNOX-LINCOLN FARM BUREAU

Agricultural Notes

Orla Johnson, of Bunker Hill, and his son, Donald of Jefferson, have set out some Virginia crab trees this Spring and are planning to bud them next year. Donald has cut out about 100 trees in his orchard as the trees were too thick and needed to be removed. He has, however, about 1200 trees at present in his orchard. The past week he applied the pink spray.

Daniel Ames and wife of West Alna who have both been in the hospital for appendicitis are back on their farm but are having hard work to handle the 15 cows and 300 chickens. With the shortage of labor it looks as though they would have to cut down on the amount of farming this Summer.

Many orchardists are grafting this Spring as they have many wild trees which have been growing for the past few years. Many make good trees providing the borers have been kept out. Some trees that have been grafted show indications of winter injury. Some orchards are not going to blossom as fully as in other years.

Don't let woodchucks destroy your garden. Get some bombs from County Agent R. C. Wentworth, Rockland. There is a small charge for these to cover transportation.

Farmers who wish to have their animals slain by custom slaughterers may do so at the present time without giving stamps for same. A statement must be given the custom slaughterer that the animal was raised on his place and will be used by him or his family for food. During the month of June, County Agent Wentworth will meet with the farm bureau committees in all organized communities of the county to discuss problems related to farming in the county.

4-H Club Notes

Members of the George's Valley Hustlers of Appleton voted to attend church May 23, to observe Rural Life Sunday at their sixth meeting of the year which was held May 12 at the home of their leader, Karl Johnson. Albert Carleton and Rupert Fish, winners of the judging contest on beans held last month, received ribbons.

R. C. Wentworth, county agent, met with the Hope boys' 4-H club May 6 and showed colored slides of farming taken in the county. Five members and three visitors were present. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Bessie Hardy, club leader.

Two more members of the Chevonki boys of Wiscasset, Aubrey and George Carruth, have pig projects making a total of four and bringing the total food production projects being carried on by the nine boys to thirteen. A check-up on getting projects started was taken up at the 12th meeting of the club held at the home of their leader, Percy Hodgdon, May 19.

Mrs. Mary Andrews, leader, showed the girls how to use a pattern correctly at a meeting of the Singing Sewing 4-H Club May 15. All members were urged to attend church May 23 in observance of Rural Life Sunday.

NEW POTATOES COMING

And Will Serve To Relieve Shortage
—Vegetables and Fruits Are Increasing

Potato-hungry Americans will get plenty of new potatoes to eat by the middle of June, the nation's largest buyer of fresh fruits and vegetables predicted today.

"Abnormal weather, which retarded the crop in some states, combined with increased acreages in other states will cause a bigger volume of early potatoes than last year to be harvested between now and the middle of June," said Harvey A. Baum, vice president and general manager of the A. & P. Tea Company's produce-buying affiliate, the Atlantic Commission Company. "All of these early potatoes will be available for use in this country because they are not suitable for export."

"Government crop reports and advices from our company's field offices throughout the nation indicate that from present acreages there will be 5,000,000 more bushels of early potatoes available this year than in 1942. During June heavy supplies will be shipped simultaneously from California, South Carolina, North Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Louisiana, Alabama and other states."

"Housewives should remember that new early potatoes have to be consumed within a reasonable period after harvest inasmuch as these varieties are much more perishable than late potatoes and cannot be stored. Thus the big supply expected in June will have to be eaten by civilians and armed forces within this country because early potatoes are not suitable for shipment overseas."

Baum reported that supplies of other vegetables and fruits are increasing weekly, being augmented in many sections by local production. Some vegetables are reaching peak production and housewives are beginning to buy for home canning, he said. Canning at such times, when particular fruits and vegetables are available in the largest quantities will aid the war effort by conserving perishable food that might otherwise be wasted.

CHURCHES

SERMONETTE

A Testimony That Counts

This week I finished as President of the Cumberland United Baptist Association. It was the 7th annual meeting since the Union and the 132d since the founding of the Cumberland Association in North Yarmouth. The sessions were held in the Baptist Church at South Windham. My successor was Rev. Harold C. Bonell, pastor of the Central Square Baptist, Portland, one of the most gracious souls in the Maine Convention. Rev. Wm. H. Jones, D. D. led the Association in prayer for Chester O. Wyllie as leader of the Maine laymen.

There were two addresses and the annual sermon in the morning session. The principal address of the afternoon was by Rev. Frank Valdina, a great Italian Missionary of Boston, pastor of the Hyde Park Italian Baptist Church and of the Italian Chapel at Quincy. He said, "I am not going to preach but give a testimony."

The Testimony: "We came to New York, immigrants, and my mother and I lived with my Aunt, in a 32-story house. Next to it was a large vacant lot. My mother and aunt were not religious Catholics, but superstitious Catholics. When there was to be a baby christened or there was a death, for the time being, they were rigid Catholics. One day a great tent was erected on the vacant lot and a sign proclaimed a Protestant Revival was to be held. My cousin Toni had a glass eye.

"My Aunt and my Mother called us before them and warned us not to attend. Toni looked straight at his Mother with his glass eye, but winked at me with his good one. We crawled under the tent. Speaking both Italian and English I memorized a Gospel hymn, then we went very quietly home and went to bed. In the morning as I dressed I sang that hymn in Italian. My Mother and my Aunt heard it. It was the end; Toni and I left home and went to Boston where I had some Uncles. They were making money, lots of it. Tony and I made money. I wanted to be as rich as my uncles. I joined the Baptist Church and into my life came a rollicking Irishman preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ from the depths of his Soul. One day he said to me, 'Frank, God does not want you to make money. Take what you have made, go to college become ordained and save other immigrants for your Lord.'"

Knox County readers, whom do you think that forthright Irishman was? None other than Rev. Francis W. O'Brien, my dear friend, preaching for a time at the First Baptist Church Rockland—a church my father served and loved, and into which I was baptized and of which I am proud to be a son.

There is a "testimony that counts" for righteousness in the crown of Rev. Francis W. O'Brien, no question.

"Ancient and modern necromancy, alias mesmerism and hypnotism denounced" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon that will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist on May 30. The Golden Text is: "The Lord God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded; therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed." (Isaiah 50:7). The citations from the Bible include the following passages: "And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever." (II Timothy 4:18).

"The Life that Counts," will be the text of the sermon by Rev. Charles A. Marsteller, at the Littlefield Memorial Baptist Church, Sunday morning at 10:30. The choir will sing. Sunday School follows at 11:45 with classes for all ages. The Young Peoples' and evening services will be omitted so that all may attend the Baccalaureate service at the Community Building. Mid-week prayer and praise service Tuesday night at 7:30.

At the Pratt Memorial Methodist Church on Sunday morning at 10:45, the patriotic organizations of the City will be honored guests for the Memorial Service, when the pastor, Rev. Alfred G. Hempstead will preach. The Church School will meet at noon. Because of the County Agent Wentworth

Again Discusses Timely
Farm Facts

Rockland Lions lent an attentive ear Wednesday when County Agent Ralph C. Wentworth, addressing them for the second time within a few weeks, told of the emergency food situation and gave helpful garden hints. The Farm Bureau representative for Knox and Lincoln Counties is splendidly equipped to discuss these questions in which the public is now so deeply concerned.

Wentworth preaced his remarks with the statement that the country's food production last year was an increase of 12 percent over that of 1941, but even then we did not have much more than was needed.

The present weather is not good for farming, and if it continues, the speaker said, many fields will not be planted this season. The Western floods have done tremendous damage and many acres will have to be replanted.

The Government is asking for such a large percentage of canned goods—a full 100 percent of blueberries—that we are wondering whether we will come out. If you have blueberry pie next Winter

Due to previous engagements this will be Dr. O'Brien's last Sunday, and all are urged to attend in appreciation for his two months of faithful ministry as our interim pastor. The Church School will meet at noon for the study of Peter's letters to Christians. The Young People's Bible Class will hold its regular study hour at 5, followed at 6 by the Christian Endeavorers' "Inspiration Hour." The public Bible Class will also meet at 6 in the main vestry. There will be no evening service, so that all may attend the High School Baccalaureate in the Community Building.

Memorial Day will be observed at the First Baptist Church in the morning service at 10:30 with special music by the choir and by Dr. Francis W. O'Brien's sermon concerning our nation, "America in Bible Prophecy and in Fulfillment."

you will have to can the berries yourself. There will be very little canned product in the home markets.

"You had better can your garden vegetables," warned Wentworth "instead of eating up your garden this Summer."

The Government is taking immense quantities of eggs to convert into dried product for the men in the service. A case of eggs dries down to eight pounds.

The speaker presented some startling figures relative to milk, hogs, sheep, etc.

The matter of obtaining sufficient farm labor is one of the greatest problems. "All I can think of is High School labor," said Wentworth. In this area we have largely "oneman farms." Obtaining farm machinery is another great problem, and in this connection the speaker told of the infinitely small allotment made for Knox County. Unless the tractors come soon, he said they will be of no use.

Fertilizer is also extremely scarce. You do not need much lime locally because of the nature of the soil.

The speaker recommended the planting of early tomatoes, favoring the Victor and Earlyanna varieties.

Don't plant small seeds too deep. Have materials on hand to fight insects. If you have a chance to carry half a dozen chickens, do so. Eighty-five percent of the cost of raising poultry comes in the purchase of grain. It will be necessary to raise the ceiling price on corn before farmers will raise it.

The speaker said they are paying as high as $20 for pigs, and more are being raised this year than for many years.

The Lions are much interested in the contest which is said to be shaping up for the election of a new King Lion. A skilled politician is heading up the movement to down the "slate."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Sterling, Jr., and daughter, Ann Walker Sterling, of Portland were recent dinner guests at the home of their parents here at the station.

Mrs. Rufus Miller recent guest at the home of her niece, Mrs. Bert Mitchell, South Portland, and will soon go to Matineus for an extended visit with relatives and acquaintances.

Ann Walker Sterling, recent guest at the home of her grandparents, returned home Monday afternoon.

The Hills and their guest, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. R. T. Sterling were in Portland on business last Friday and called on Mr. and Mrs. John Wilbur and their new baby boy.

Victory gardens are under way every where and if we had the place, would join the toilers of the soil. We seem to be set upon a solid foundation. The nearest we get to a vegetable garden is a few tomato plants and in a few spots of dirt scattered here and there we plant dahlias and marigolds.

The old gang met Sunday enjoying a social afternoon and evening with our first picnic lunch this spring. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dow of Portland, Arthur Harlow of South Portland and the Portland Head families.

FRIENDSHIP

The 10:30 service of worship in the Methodist Church, Sunday, will be appropriate to Memorial Day, with special music and sermon by the Pastor, Rev. Walter A. Smith, upon the subject, "Banners of Righteousness." An invitation is issued to War Veterans and service men. Sunday school will be at 11:45. There will be no evening service.

A TIMELY POEM

"Yesterday." Written By a New Hampshire Marine, Is Here Republished

A poem entitled "Yesterday," written by Vincent H. Cassidy, Jr., of Derry, N. H., attracted such favorable attention when published in a newspaper that the New Hampshire Legislature ordered it reprinted in the House Journal. The author served in the U. S. Marine Corps, First U. S. Marine Raiders' Battalion, at Guadalcanal. The poem is republished here at the request of Representative Charles A. Holden, well known in this city.

"YESTERDAY"

Yesterday?
Ah, yes, I remember yesterday.
I was young then, light of heart and gay.
A stranger still to fear and sleepless nights.
But that was yesterday.
The clang of steel, the pang of pain.
The bitter twang of twice-born hate
I had not known, nor yet had been at war.
I had not noticed day by day
Dear ones' faces fade away.
And home becomes a dream, a thing remembered.
Hoped for—all but lost in memory.
But now I've seen more than I'll say—
How old I've grown since "Yesterday!"

"How did I know you'd need bombs?"

MORE than half the bombs this country makes exist by what you might call an "accident." "Some accident, too! I saw it happen."

"It was 1935. We research workers at Esso were trying many things with petroleum to see what else we could learn about it. And up came a process for synthetic toluol."

"Well, you need toluol to make TNT. But coal-tar was providing all the toluol the country needed—then."

"However...all the toluol you could get from coal-tar would make far less than half the TNT we're using now! The other half is made by that Esso process perfected back in 1935."

"Now...I didn't know then that you'd need bombs, and neither did you. And I can hear a lot of people say 'Boy was that discovery a lucky thing!'..."

"But I don't call it luck. I call it the American idea at work. We hit on that process because free American people expect so much that American companies have to learn everything they can about new and better methods just to stay out front in business."

"If this war didn't prove anything else, it would prove that nothing like America ever existed anywhere before."

What other idea ever did so many people so much good in peacetime? What other idea ever turned out so much might so fast in time of war?"
